

Ramazan Algin received the B.S. and M.Sc. degrees in Computer Engineering from Marmara University. He is a Faculty Member with the Computer Engineering Department, Marmara University. His research interests are combinatorial optimization, meta-heuristics and path planning.

Dindar Oz received his B.Sc. and M.Sc. degrees in Computer Engineering from Bogazici University in Istanbul, Turkey. He is currently a Ph.D. candidate at Marmara University in the Computer Engineering Department. He has been working as a researcher in National Cryptology and Electronics Institute of Turkey for more than 10 years. His research interests include graph theory, path planning, optimization, and information security.

Elvan Ceyhan received his B.Sc. degree in Mathematics from Koc University in Istanbul, Turkey, his M.Sc. degree in Statistics Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, OK, and M.S.E. and Ph.D. degrees in Applied Mathematics & Statistics from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland. He is currently an Associate Professor at the Department of Mathematics at Koc University. His research interests are in random geometric graphs, spatial data analysis, and analysis of medical imaging data.

Vural Aksakalli received his B.Sc. degree in Mathematics from Middle East Technical University in Ankara, Turkey, his M.Sc. degree in Industrial Engineering and Operations Research from North Carolina State University in Raleigh, NC, and M.Sc. and Ph.D. degrees in Applied Mathematics & Statistics from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland. He is currently an Associate Professor of Industrial Engineering at Istanbul Sehir University in Turkey. His research interests are in stochastic optimization, data mining, and applied probability and statistics.
