BIOGRAPHY

Prof. Ahmed Farouk Abdul Moneim is a professor emeritus at Arab Academy for Science and Technology and Maritime Transport (AASTMT) in Alexandria Egypt. Presently, he is delivering lectures in Reliability Engineering, Statistical Analysis and Management Science. He contributed in tens of publications and supervised several scientific works for Ph.D and M. Sc. in different topics in Industrial and management Engineering. He was the chairman of Alexandria Shipyard for about six years 1980-86.

Dr. Mootaz Ghazy is an assistant professor at Arab Academy for Science and Technology and Maritime Transport (AASTMT) in Alexandria Egypt. He is graduated from AASTMT in 2000. He has a MSc. degree in Industrial and Management Engineering department at AASTMT in 2005. He took a PhD degree in Mechanical and Systems Engineering School 2012 from Newcastle University at UK.

Amr Hassnien is currently pursuing a MSc. Degree in Industrial and Management Engineering, Faculty of Engineering, Arab Academy for Science and Technology (AASTMT). Obtained his BSc degree in Mechanical Power Engineering, Faculty of Engineering, Alexandria University in 2007. He is currently working in Egyptian Projects Operation and Maintenance (EPROM), Egypt as Senior Maintenance Planning Engineer.
