

Department of Management Sciences, COMSATS Institute of Information Technology Pakistan for several years. Mr. Khan has plenty of industrial and corporate-sector work experience in multinational firms around the world. Multi-screen user behavior is his top research interest along with, social media, co-creation and dual process models of consumer behavior.

Dr. Li Guoxin is a Professor of Marketing and Management at Department of Management and Economy, Harbin Institute of Technology, China. She is also working as visiting scholar in USA and Canada from past few years. She has published in various prestigious Journals including 'Journal of Business Research' and 'Journal of Product Innovation Management' among others. Dr. Guoxin is Editor of Journal of Global Association of Marketing Science and Reviewer of Cyber-Psychology, Behavior, and Social Networking (SSCI). Apart from Journal publications, she has also presented papers and chaired in many conferences globally. Professor Li Guoxin has done several research projects in collaboration with public and private sector. Her key research areas are; social capital and social network, E-commerce, consumer behavior, co-creation and innovation management.

Ehsan Chitsaz is a Ph.D. student majored in business administration, Harbin Institute of Technology. He was a manager in Isfahan science and technology town and research on internal factors affecting new firms performance. His recent interest is the psychology of competition. His recent articles published in Technological Forecasting and Social Change and Technovation.

Naqash Ali is a graduate student at COMSATS institute of information technology Pakistan. He has completed his MBA degree from the same institution. His recent research interest includes, multi-screen behavior, lagging team members' performance management, brand preference and real estate development in Pakistan.

Ume Ammara is a graduate student at COMSATS institute of information technology Pakistan. She earned her MBA education from the same institution. Her recent research are; multi-screen use behavior, project management, quality management and textile sector.