

Biographies

Konstantin Novikov is a PhD student in the Department of Industrial Engineering and Management at the University of West Bohemia, Pilsen, Czech Republic. He earned bachelor degree at the Faculty of Mechanical Engineering and during that time was studying one semester at Cukurova University in Turkey. He spent one semester at the Chienkuo University in Taiwan during the master program. He was working about 4 months in the company Arbonia AG in Switzerland on completing of diploma thesis. He has published conference papers. Ing. Novikov was working as an industrial engineer in Kermi and now is a coordinator of projects specialized in lean industry and logistics. His research interests include manufacturing, cost calculation, optimization, risk management and lean.

Jana Kleinova is an Associate Professor in the Department of Industrial Engineering and Management at the University of West Bohemia, Pilsen, Czech Republic. She is a guarantor of many courses such as: Economic evaluation of production processes, Engineering economics, Cost calculations in engineering, Corporate Finance etc. Mrs. Kleinova has been participating on many educational projects. She has published journal and conference papers. Doc. Ing. Kleinova, CSc. earned her master degree at the Faculty of Mechanical Engineering. Her habilitation thesis topic was Cost view of production issues. Her research interests include calculation of production and product costs and financial management of engineering companies.