

Biography / Biographies

Joshua M. Blas is a graduate of Bachelor of Science in Industrial Engineering at Adamson University, Batch 2019. He was born on December 3, 1997 in Manila City. During his stay with the university, he had served as the Vice President - External Affiliations of the Philippine Institute of Industrial Engineers – Operations Society of the Philippines Adamson University Chapter and spearheaded the IE Summit 2018, which is the biggest and award winning event of the organization. He also served in the National Organization for Industrial Engineers for students as the Director for Creatives. He has experience in the field of Quality and Content Development having worked as a Quality Assurance Engineer at a Japanese Manufacturing Company for a year, and now as a Junior Content Development Executive at a Consulting and Learning Solutions firm where he is conducting product and content research for professional and corporate trainings, both locally and internationally.

Jean Loiriane B. Ardales is a BS Industrial Engineering graduate from Adamson University, Batch 2019. She was born in October 21, 1998 and was raised in Alabang, Muntinlupa City. She was the Logistic Directress of Philippine Institute of Industrial Engineers – Operations Research Society of the Philippines (PIIE-ORSP) Adamson University Chapter for term 2017-2018. She has been a part of Automated Technology (Phil) Inc. as an Intern in the Industrial Engineering/Cost Management Department where she assisted in the space and capacity planning, and labour and materials standards. She is now currently working as a Purchasing Associate at a Commercial and Food Service Industry, where she is conducting analysis of cost efficiency of items to sell.

Maida dela Cueva. Engr dela Cueva is a Assistant Professor of the Industrial Engineering Department at Adamson University, Manila, Philippines. Engr dela Cueva holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Engineering from Adamson University and her Master's degree in Management Engineering Major in Industrial Engineering in the same institution. She is also one of the newly elected Board of Director of the Human Factors and Ergonomics Society of the Philippines.

Venusar Quevedo. Dr. Venusmar is a Associate Professor of the Industrial Engineering Department at Adamson University, Manila, Philippines. Dr. Quevedo holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Engineering from Adamson University and both her Master's degree in Industrial Engineering and Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Evaluation and Research from University of the Philippines. She has been recognized as one of the Inspiring Woman Engineer by the Philippine Technological Council with her more than 35 years of experience and contribution in the industry. She has taught courses in management, feasibility and engineering research for engineers. She has published and presented research papers both local and international.