

Materials Management has always been one of the Supply Chain Areas of Concentration. Operational Excellence deals with it through a distinct perspective. The intent of this paper is to enlighten audiences about Operational Excellence structured approach towards material management Enhancement. The paper will explain, how to ensure having the right material and the right quantity at the most optimum delivery time. Finally, will shed light on the advantage of aligning OE Approach with supply chain concept to optimize management.