

Reference

- GOB (Government of the People Republic of Bangladesh, Department of International Development (UK) , Groundwater Studies for Arsenic contamination in Bangladesh, Final Review report submitted to the GOB , Vol-S1, 1999.
- Islam, Md.Nazrul , Lowering Of Water Table , Irrigation Policy Change and its influence on the Ground water arsenic contamination problem in Bangladesh, a dissertation submitted to the Michigan State University for Doctor of Philosophy , Biosystems Engineering, 2003.
- MPO (Master Plan Organization),1987. The groundwater resources and its availability for development. June 87. Technical report No 5 Submitted to the Ministry of Irrigation, Water Development and Flood Control, Government of the People republic of Bangladeshassited by the United Nations Development Program(UNDP) and the World Bank.
- NMIDP (National Minor Irrigation Development Project), 2001. Main Report of National Minor Irrigation Census (NMIC) , 1999/2000 , Prepared by the NMIDP, DAE Dhaka January 2001.
- World Bank, 1998. Technical report on groundwater arsenic contamination problem in Bangladesh.